Montreal power bank kiosk placement list

Prospecting sheet. Venues are grouped by how quickly you can realistically close them, not by how big they are. Work Tier 1 first.

Score any venue on these five. Take anything hitting four or more.
Dwell time	Two hours or more in one seat
Phone use	Photos, social, ordering, gaming or dating apps while they sit
Outlet access	Few accessible plugs, no lending cable behind the bar
Crowd	18 to 35, already taps a card without thinking about it
Hours	Open past midnight, or serves people who arrive already drained

Late-night nightlife gives you the best economics. A dead phone at 1am with a ride to book is the highest willingness to pay you will ever see. A cafe at 2pm is the worst, because the customer is sitting next to an outlet with their own cable.

Before pitching: Battcharge claims 100+ points across Quebec, Recharges.ca works hotels, restaurants, cafes and malls at 25% to the venue, and chargeFUZE Canada is in market. Walk in and look for a kiosk first. If one is there, ask the manager how it is working out. That is free competitive intelligence and it sometimes turns into a switch.

TIER 1 Walk in this week

Owner-operated. One decision maker. You can get a yes in a single conversation.

104	John Abbott College	CEGEP	Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue	West Island campus

TIER 3 Seasonal, where the real money is

One festival weekend can out-earn a bar for a quarter. Organisers lock vendors months ahead, so contact them now for next season.

Festivals and events

#	Venue	Type	Area	Why it rents	Phone	Instagram / email	Status
105	Piknic Electronik	Festival	Parc Jean-Drapeau	Every Sunday, May to September, recurring all season

112	Grand Prix weekend	Street festival	Crescent / Peel	June, highest street density of the year
113	Fierte Montreal	Festival	The Village	August
114	Igloofest	Festival	Old Port	January, and cold drains phones faster than anything here

#	Venue	Type	Area	Why it rents	Phone	Instagram / email	Status
115	Montreal Comiccon	Convention	Palais des congres	July, all-day dwell, constant filming
116	Otakuthon	Convention	Palais des congres	August, same profile
117	Nuits d'Afrique	Festival	Quartier des Spectacles	July
118	Fantasia Festival	Film festival	Concordia / downtown	July into August, long screening days
119	National Bank Open, IGA Stadium	Tournament	Jarry Park	August, two weeks of heavy daily traffic

How to fill the contact columns fast

1	Search the venue on Google Maps. Phone and website are on the listing. Copy the phone straight across.
2	Find the venue on Instagram. For Montreal bars, clubs and lounges the Instagram DM gets answered faster than any email address on their website, and it usually reaches the owner rather than a generic inbox.
3	Skip info@ addresses on nightlife venues. Nobody reads them. Use the DM or walk in.
4	For restaurants, arcades and salons, walk in between 2pm and 4pm. That is the dead hour and the manager is on the floor with time to talk.
5	For campuses, hospitals, malls and transit, you need a named facilities or ancillary services contact. Call the main line and ask who handles vendor placements or concessions, then email that person.
6	For festivals, search the event's vendor or partner page and apply through it. Most lock their vendor list three to six months out.

The pitch, in one breath

Free to install, free to keep, you take a cut of every rental and I handle everything. Recharges.ca pays venues 25%, so match it or beat it, or lead with the thing they cannot offer: you are local, you answer a text, and you show up the same day when a battery jams.

Accuracy note

Venue names and areas were compiled from general knowledge of the city and a light check for closures. Montreal venues close, move and rebrand constantly. Confirm each one is open before you plan a route. Phone numbers and email addresses were deliberately left blank rather than guessed.
